MEETMARKET - MARKETPLACE FOR DOCUMENTARY FILMMAKERS SUCCESSFUL PROJECTS ANNOUNCED

MeetMarket brings together selected documentary filmmakers with national and international executive producers, broadcasters and distributors who are attending the Australian International Documentary Conference (AIDC) being held in Adelaide this March.

AIDC received over 80 entries competing to participate in MeetMarket 2011. An independent international selection committee selected 25 successful projects by Australian and New Zealand filmmakers.

Of the Australian projects, seven come from NSW, seven from Victoria, four from South Australia, two from Queensland, one from Tasmania and one from Western Australia.

For the first time, two slots were allocated to "Fresh Meet" – a new incentive encouraging recent university graduates to submit potential proposals.

AIDC Executive Director, Joost den Hartog says, "We are very happy with this year's slate of MeetMarket projects which include works in development by seasoned and emerging filmmakers."

Screen Australia Chief Executive Ruth Harley says, "MeetMarket provides a unique chance for documentary filmmakers with projects in development to meet with potential buyers. Screen Australia is proud to again be partnering with AIDC to deliver this marketplace opportunity and we congratulate all those selected to participate in the 2011 event."

Producers, broadcasters and distributors from the documentary industry will watch pitch teasers of the 25 projects through the Screening Room online. They will then choose the ones they wish to discuss further in one-on-one meetings with the filmmakers at the Conference in Adelaide. These meetings provide the opportunity for creative and original ideas to be fast-tracked within a supportive and structured setting.

As well as MeetMarket, AIDC 2011 provides a range of marketplace opportunities for its delegates including Trailer Park, Videothèque and The Editors' Hour. Online facilities supporting these opportunities include the Screening Room and DocExchange.
